

Theft of Mozambican aircraft Maputo radio, citing the Maputo newspaper 'Domingo', reported on 6th November that four light aircraft and a helicopter belonging to the Mozambican state company, TTA, had been stolen and taken to South Africa after use in a crop-spraying operation in Botswana. South Africa had said the aircraft had passed through Jan Smuts airport in Johannesburg and one was being held under court order in Durban. One of the aircraft had been located in Swaziland and flown back to Maputo. Mozambique was seeking the return of the remaining aircraft.* '83
