

Air crash team in SA

JOHANNESBURG: Soviet and Mozambican investigators arrived in South Africa yesterday to monitor the handling of the "black boxes" from the plane crash that killed President Samora Machel.

Members of the two delegations, along with a South African team, had met in Maputo on Tuesday, to listen to a recording of the Maputo airport control tower's communications with the plane's Soviet crew before the October 19 crash.—AP.
