[Text] The Mozambican defense minister, General Alberto Chipande, who is on an official visit to the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, was yesterday received by the country's leader, Kim Il-song. Gen Chipande, who is accompanied by several officials of his ministry, was invited by the Korean defense minister, Vice Marshal O Chin-u.

The aim of the visit is to review current military cooperation between Mozambique and Democratic Korea, and to plan increased collaboration for the future. Gen Chipande has held talks with Marshal O Chin-u. The Democratic People's of Korea has in the past trained many Mozambican soldiers and officers, and given vital logistic support to the armed forces.
