

South Africa- Mozambique co-operation starts

New Afr.

May 84 p.67

With the signing of the Inkomati accord, South Africa is already helping Mozambique in practical ways. Already 100km of plastic pipes have been delivered to supply water in the north. A series of talks on tourism are going ahead, while a new deal on power supplies from the Cabora Bassa hydro-electric scheme has also been agreed with Mozambique and Portugal. A joint security force to protect the 900km power line has been discussed.