

Nkomati accord reviewed

MBABANE.

PRESIDENT Samora Machel on Saturday met South African President P. W. Botha in the Swazi capital, Mbabane, where both men witnessed the coronation of the Swazi monarch, King Mswati.

This was the first time Cde Machel and Mr Botha have met since the signing of the Nkomati non-aggression accord on March 16 1984.

The accord was the main topic of discussion, especially in the light of the publication last year of documents found when Mozambican and Zimbabwean forces overran the main base of the South African - backed MNR bandits in the central district of Gorongosa.

The meeting, which lasted for 40 minutes, was described as "cordial". Both Cde Machel and Mr Botha pledged to comply with the Nkomati Accord and ensure good neighbourliness and peace between the two countries. — Ziiana-AIM.
