[Text] In 1987 trade exchanges between Mozambique and the USSR amounted to some $118 million. This was disclosed today by Valeriy Morozov, director of the Soviet pavilion at the 1988 Mozambique Trade Fair, FACIM. The USSR pavilion includes agricultural machinery, vehicles, research equipment, and other products that it usually exports to Mozambique. Despite problems being experienced by our country, there are prospects for a progressive increase in trade exchanges between Mozambique and the USSR.
