Addressing a mammoth mass rally in Rufaro Stadium on the second day of his four-day state visit to Zimbabwe, Cde Chissano said these forces which supported the apartheid regime in Pretoria, were telling the people of Mozambique that Zimbabweans were infiltrating their country with the aim of dominating them while at the same time telling Zimbabwe that it was wasting money by maintaining its military presence in Mozambique.

"These people want Zimbabwe to forget its own interests and culture . . .", President Chissano told the thousands of people who filled the stadium to its capacity.

He said these forces were the same bandits who sabotaged the railway line which connects the two countries so that Zimbabwe continues to depend on South Africa for its trade routes.

These forces were mistaken because the revolution could not be stopped, he said, adding that it was moving like a strong wind in all areas.

The unity between Zimbabwe and Mozambique was set to attain concrete goals for the welfare, well-being, peace and agricultural advancement of the peoples of the two countries.

Cde Chissano thanked the people of Zimbabwe for their determination to fight side by side with Mozambicans.

He urged the people of Zimbabwe not to continue to cry over the tragic death of President Samora Machel. "Eaen Zimbabwean is a Samora, each Mozambican is a Samora. Why should we keep on crying? Samora is still here showing us the way," he said to the applause of the crowd.

The apartheid regime should not be allowed to divide Mozambique from Zimbabwe, said President Chissano. He assured the crowd that the railway between the two countries would be re-opened to allow Zimbabweans to freely visit all the beaches in Mozambique.

He added that Mozambique would not be shaken by the threats from Pretoria and would not allow the South African regime to destroy the Beira Corridor.

The Prime Minister, Cde Mugabe, told the rally that there would never come a time when Zimbabwe and Mozambique would surrender to the MNR bandits. "Never ever . . ." he said.

Cde Mugabe reiterated Zimbabwe's stand that the war in Mozambique was also its war.

In his vote of thanks, President Banana assured the Mozambican president of Zimbabwe's unflinching solidarity with Mozambique. "We were one yesterday, we are one today and we continue to be one tomorrow."
