

MOZAMBIQUE A catholic university is to be established in Beira and Nampula with support from the episcopal conferences of Germany and Italy, believed to be the Roman Catholic Church's "richest". The preparatory committee for the project includes the bishops of Beira, Nampula and Tete, representing in practice the lobby of bishops from the country's central region who are close to the Renamo movement and therefore clearly opposed to the Frelimo.