

Mozambique's political and military situation had been analysed at a meeting in Nampula from 14th to 16th January, Maputo radio said. The meeting, held in the context of the guidelines "that 1983 should be the year of action on all fronts", had been chaired by President Machel and attended by party leaders, Ministers, and senior national and provincial officials and military governors.