

MOZAMBIQUE

- Electricity supplies in Maputo were cut after the rebel Mozambique National Resistance (MNR) sabotaged power lines from the Komatipoort station in South Africa on 1 December. This was the latest in a series of rebel attacks in the past three months. Water rationing was also introduced after the main supply pipeline burst.

AED 7/12/84