

The reported plan to set up an MNR information office in Durban was causing concern in some quarters that it would constitute a violation of the Incomati accord, Capital Radio (Umtata) said on 1st June. The radio's correspondent said: "The rebel Mozambican movement is set to open an office in Durban tomorrow according to a report in today's 'Sunday Tribune'. . . The report indicates that the government's Bureau of Information believes opening the office breaches Incomati but the Department of Foreign Affairs sees no problems. . ."
