

MNR base captured X

MAPUTO.

AN official Mozambican source has confirmed that the Mozambican armed forces have occupied an important base of South African-backed MNR bandits in the central province of Zambezia.

The base, located in Morrumbala district close to the border with Malawi, was occupied on April 29, the source said.

The number of bandits killed or captured in the operation is still not known. Military sources in Zambezia province said last week that the Mozambican armed forces were closing in on the bandits in the Morrumbala and neighbouring Milange districts.
