

Forces kill 35

MAPUTO. — Units of the Mozambican frontier guards repulsed an attack by bandits of the South African backed MNR against the town of Ulongue, in the north-western province of Tete, last Friday, according to a report on Radio Mozambique yesterday.

In the clash, the Mozambican troops killed 35 bandits. The radio also reported that Mozambican forces killed six bandits in clashes in Sussendenga District, in the central province of Manica, near the Zimbabwean border, in the closing days of June. — Ziana-

Aim. 03 JUL 1987