Maputo — The Mozambican government forces killed at least 18 MNR bandits last week in clashes just north of Maluana, in Maputo province, the Mozambique news agency AIM reported yesterday.

Maluana is on a main road about 50 km north of the capital.

Meanwhile, Angolan forces killed four UNITA bandits and wounded several on Saturday as the bandits tried to sabotage the Benguela railway, the official Angolan news agency Angop said — Ziana-Rtr-Xinhua.
