

(Text) From Mozambique, news of a war with no end in sight. A rebel attack on a convoy of five civilian vehicles in Maputo province caused at least 15 dead and several wounded. Since February at least 36 vehicles have been destroyed on the road between Xai-Xai and Maputo. On Wednesday night [21st June] the town of Ressaño Garcia was attacked by rebels. There has been no official confirmation yet of the attack due to communications difficulties with the said border town. At least five people are thought to have died in the attack. Ressaño Garcia is the main border post with South Africa.
