

Argus
7/5/91

Refugees drown in Zambezi

Argus Africa
News Service

MAPUTO. — At least six people drowned when they fled into the Zambezi river to escape Renamo rebels attacking the port of Chinde at the mouth of the river.

It was the first time the port had been attacked by the rebels.