

Portuguese puppets pass-out

Johannesburg, Sunday.

ONE thousand crack puppet African para-troops received their wings and berets at one of the biggest passing out parades seen in Mozambique, the South African Press Association reported from Beira yesterday.

The parade at the Edondo army barracks was watched by the Governor-General, Mr. Pimentel Do Santos, the commander in chief of the armed forces, General Kaulza de Arriaga, and senior military officers.

Diplomatic representatives from— South Africa, the United States, West Germany, Britain, Rhodesia and Brazil also attended the event, which was preceded by a spectacular parachute drop display by 400 puppet para-troopers and a display of aerobatics by fighter planes.
