

Mozambique: Chissano rules out sharing power with the MNR In an address to the non-aligned summit in Belgrade, President Chissano said the dialogue the government was attempting to establish with the "armed bandit ringleaders" was not aimed at sharing power, altering the constitution or changing the political order in the country, Radio Mozambique (Maputo) reported on 5th September. '87