90 THE United States government has welcomed the peace talks between the Mozambican government and the MNR bandits.

A statement released in Harare over the weekend by the United States Information Service said the US was encouraged by these meetings which represented a positive step to end the massive civilian suffering in Mozambique.

According to a joint communique released in Rome last Wednesday, both the Mozambican government and MNR bandits are committed to continuing their meetings in Rome and to maintaining the search for a working platform to end the war. — Herald Reporter.
