

Dhlakama gets German access

Renamo leader Alfonso Dhlakama left his headquarters in Maringue this week for a three-day visit to Germany where his new level of access to senior politicians was demonstrated. He was scheduled to hold talks with Foreign Minister Klaus Kinkel and other senior officials of the German government on issues related to the peace process. He was also scheduled to meet some German parliamentarians and business leaders to win political and economic support for Renamo. Dhlakama has visited a number of European countries seeking political and economic assistance.
