

Soldiers attack market

MAPUTO — Mutinous soldiers yesterday used a tank to hold up a market on the outskirts of Maputo. The mutineers, who said they had not received pay or rations from the army while awaiting demobilisation, fired the tank's heavy machine guns into the air to frighten off stall holders before taking large quantities of rice and chickens.

BD 28/7/94