MAPUTO — South African President, Mr F. W. de Klerk, arrived here yesterday morning for talks with Mozambican President, Cde Joaquim Chissano, at the latter's invitation.

Mr de Klerk was met at Maputo's International Airport by Cde Chissano.

The two presidents had lunch together followed by a working session.

The release of the jailed ANC leader, Cde Nelson Mandela, was expected to be discussed along with economic co-operation and security matters, particularly the South African-backed MNR activities in Mozambique.

This was the first visit by Mr de Klerk since he was sworn-in as president in September. However, he visited Mozambique in July in his capacity as leader of the ruling National Party.

Since Mozambique has no diplomatic relations with South Africa, there were none of the usual protocol niceties like guards of honour and playing of a national anthem. — Ziana-PANA-AIM.
