S Africa-Mozambique security commission meets in Pretoria (Text) The joint Mozambique-South Africa security commission met in Pretoria yesterday to analyse the security situation along the common border. The meeting was held within the framework of the Nkomati accord, signed by the two countries in 1984. The Mozambican delegation to the meeting was led by army commander Tobias Day, while Lt-Gen Liebenberg headed the South African team. The commission will hold its next meeting in Maputo at a date to be decided. (Maputo home service in Portuguese 1900 gmt 7 Jun 89)
