

Chissano and Mugabe hold talks in Harare The Mozambique President arrived in Harare on 16th December on what was originally intended to be a stop-over en route to a Lusophone meeting in Cape Verde, the South Africa agency reported. However, he extended his meeting by one day and left on the 17th. Radio Mozambique (Maputo) said no details had been given of the talks but everything indicated that they covered the peace process in Mozambique initiated in Nairobi.
